
Event times in GMT?

Posted by shadowen - 2008/04/03 07:56

I have the calendar component installed and working on my website. However, all my event times are in GMT format and not in my local time. Is there a way to get the event times correct?

I'm having the same issue. I was hoping it was a Joomla 1.5.2 fix. Dates are 2 days ahead on the monthly view, but looks fine on the week or day view.

Thanks,

Thanks for trying the calendar! I'll be sure to look into this in the next release.

I'm looking at this to replace using iFrames with Google Calendar for our school calendar system.

I'm also getting my Chinese site's calendar showing up in Greenwich time.

Any hacks/work-around?

Thanks for using the calendar! In your case, I would dispense with iWebCal and just use Google Calendar. Google Calendar gives you an interface where you can add and remove events, which iWebCal doesn't do. Use Joomla!'s Wrapper menu item type to link to it.

I'm not really doing much with the calendar these days and have more or less abandoned it.
