
Feed item descriptions don't show returns

Posted by AndyHerb - 2009/10/18 16:21

Hi,

I'm wondering whether anyone else has this 'problem' or knows a solution: My Podcast is up and running and the articles have been written to contain a few brief lines so that users on the website can stream rather than download. The article looks something like:

Date: DD-Mmmm-YYYY

Speaker:

Overview:

{enclose filename.mp3}

All is great until I view the podcast details either in the RSS feed or in iTunes. In these areas the text comes out as:

Date: DD-Mmmm-YYYYSpeaker: Overview:

All the formatting's gone (not a big loss), as are all the carriage returns, making it really difficult to read :(

Any help or thoughts would be greatly appreciated,
Andy

Hi Andy,

Thanks for using the suite! The problem is that XML and HTML don't honor carriage returns. It should be at least putting a space between YYYY and Speaker, but you do lose the formatting when it goes to the RSS feed.

Also, iTunes won't display formatting to begin with.
