

---

component configuration issues?

Posted by Nick Danger - 2006/08/05 00:38

---

Im having a few issues so I thought I'd post here. I didnt want to keep bothering jleblac via email for help :-)

As you can see at my site (www.hackermonkey.com) I do have the podcast module installed, and working. The problem is there are 11 titles under my "Compotents/Podcasts/Manage Clips", only 2 of which are unpublished. And yet, the link shows only 5 items in the cast. I checked opening the page in firefox, and I've been using iPodder (and sometimes rhythmbox, but it gets wonky on occasion)

Is this a configuration issue? For completeness in solving this, I should mention I had the previous module loaded (beta2?) and had a similar issue. I renamed the files without spaces and that seemed to solve it. Only now its back. Maybe I need to clean out the mysql db enteries and then reload the component?

Any advice is welcome, thanks!

---

Re:component configuration issues?

Posted by Joe LeBlanc - 2006/08/05 21:48

---

Hi Nick,

Is it that only 5 items are appearing in the feed, or only 5 items are appearing in the section you've linked to in the frontend?

---

Re:component configuration issues?

Posted by niqdanger - 2006/08/07 19:22

---

I dont think I understand the question. All my feeds are listed as the same "Section" and "Catagory" so they should all appear in the same thing no? I'll make a new section and try to see if I cant move them all into it.

---

Re:component configuration issues?

Posted by niqdanger - 2006/08/07 19:54

---

I dont think I understand the question. All my feeds are listed as the same "Section" and "Catagory" so they should all appear in the same thing no? I'll make a new section and try to see if I cant move them all into it.

---

Re:component configuration issues?

Posted by Joe LeBlanc - 2006/08/08 00:07

---

Sorry for the confusion...

Are you only seeing 5 items in the XML file that is being generated, or are you only seeing 5 items on the page of your site where all of the podcast episodes appear? The former would be an issue with the component. The latter is a configuration change you can make to the menu item pointing to that page.

---

Re:component configuration issues?

Posted by niqdanger - 2006/08/08 14:26

---

I see only file files in the XML.

---

To check I made a new section/catagory and put all my files in that. They are all published. The XML still only shows 5 items.

I am able to put any of the files on the front page, it shows a link that when clicked launches a player for the ogg or mp3. So Im pretty sure its not file related.

Is there a limit on the XML items?

=====

Re:component configuration issues?

Posted by Joe LeBlanc - 2006/08/09 00:07

---

Yes, you need to go to the configuration panel of the component and increase the number of items that appear in the feed (default is 5).

Sorry for the confusion!

-Joe

=====

Re:component configuration issues?

Posted by Saberj - 2006/09/09 10:58

---

niqdanger wrote:

I see only file files in the XML.

To check I made a new section/catagory and put all my files in that. They are all published. The XML still only shows 5 items.

I am able to put any of the files on the front page, it shows a link that when clicked launches a player for the ogg or mp3. So Im pretty sure its not file related.

Is there a limit on the XML items?

Not to steal Joe's thunder. But I notice that the "Settings" area lists "# Items: 5"...Could that be what is limiting it?

=====

Re:component configuration issues?

Posted by Saberj - 2006/09/09 10:59

---

Oh...you answered that...didn't see the second page :)